Agepeel Cream

Product for the dermatological treatment of wrinkles, expression lines and deep furrows due to its high concentration of anti-aging active ingredients.

Specifically designed with active ingredients that act on the skin at a molecular level to minimize muscle contraction and reduce the formation of expression lines and wrinkles, due to the use of the Argireline molecule and Oat Extract.

Clinically tested results: a study carried out on 30 volunteers revealed that, after the first seven days of application, the product manages to reduce the volume of wrinkles by 20.6% and reduce the length of expression lines by 15.9%.

Agepeel Cream is designed as part of the Agepeel treatment and formulated to meet skin needs after a biochemical peeling with the Agepeel or Agepeel Plus professional product.

After a biochemical peeling treatment, it is essential to follow the advice of the professional and continue with the home treatment to achieve the expected results.

Mature skin undergoes a process of cell deterioration, affecting the ability to carry out its maintenance and protection functions of the dermis, which is why it is necessary to enhance the skin's renewal process and give rise to new, younger cells.

Agepeel is a treatment designed to remove impurities and imperfections from the skin, from fine wrinkles to the most pronounced furrows. It acts by generating a constant renewal, with a gentle but effective treatment, key to improving the appearance of expression lines, wrinkles and furrows that occur in the dermis over time.

Cellular regeneration enhances skin hydration, increases the efficiency of cells in the process of maintaining smooth, supple skin, which proliferate giving rise to new cells for visibly younger skin.
